

Divine Truth Hub - Terms of Use Document

This document will attempt to define what is classified as loving and acceptable behaviour deemed appropriate on www.divinetruthhub.com. As previously mentioned, if these terms are adhered to it would be of benefit and protection to every user of this site. It would be a loving choice on your part if you did familiarise yourself with the below information before engaging in any activity.

Before you read further, understand that these terms are restricted to what I believe loving and unloving behaviour to be from my own current soul condition at the time of writing this. As this is the case and as I progress further in love, I may amend these terms to reflect my refined level of understanding of what I believe love would dictate me to do as leader of the site.

If any part of this document is revised in the future, I will ensure that this is communicated to everybody so that you can re-acquaint yourselves to any changes that have been made.

Of course, you can make your own free-will decision and decide to either not take time to understand these rules or to completely disregard them. Again, you are well within the law of free will to make this choice but let it be known that you would be entering discussions which may result in you making a choice which I feel is out of harmony with love (you may not feel that this is the case from your own perspective therefore probably would not have acted in that manner in which you did) and you would be liable to the potential consequences of that act regardless of which category you fall into.

In order to leave comments on any of the blog posts found on the main Divine Truth Hub site, you will be required to register by clicking the “register” button found at the top left hand corner of the site and then logging in to your account. Further to this, if you’d like to contribute to the forum you will be required to register and create an account separately over there too whilst also clicking a box stating you have read, understood and accepted these terms of use before permission will be granted to start topics and write posts. If I feel that you have been unloving to either myself or another user on either the main site or the forum, I, as the person who created this site and allowed you the opportunity to express yourself freely, reserve the right to ban or mute you from the site depending on the severity of the unloving act if this gift is abused.

There are two main categories of unloving behaviour that I will now define.

Category 1 - RED STRIKE

You will be issued with this type of strike if you have been found to engage in any of the following:

- Personal attack/abuse of myself, Jesus, Mary or another member in terms of physical appearance, character, nature or personality (this results in a ban of your forum account too)
- Condescension, arrogance, belittlement and/or humiliation towards either myself or another member
- Judgemental responses to any content posted by either myself or another member
- Projection of anger and/or rage towards either myself or another member
- Manipulation and/or control tactics to gain a feeling of power over myself or others
- Displaying immoral and unethical behaviour – particularly if done under the guise of investigating God's Laws or Divine Truth principles
- Posting content not in harmony with the teachings of Divine Truth

If you attempt to defend the actions of a person who has received a RED STRIKE, you are in effect agreeing with the actions of that person (and also breaching the terms of use you originally agreed to) therefore, you will also receive a RED STRIKE.

The consequence of receiving a RED STRIKE by breaching any of the above terms would be an instant muting from the complete Divine Truth Hub site (main site & forum) unless stated otherwise in this terms of use document.

The gift of free expression granted to you from the point of registration will be taken away meaning you will not be able to make comments on any blog posts on the main site or participate in any further forum discussion.

You will still be able to view all content on the main site and forum. This provision has been made in the hope that it may promote some self-reflection and help expose the emotion(s) that caused and drove your behaviour initially.

If you feel that you have worked through the emotion(s) as to why you were issued with a RED STRIKE initially, you can submit an appeal to me for consideration via email at nicky@divinetruthhub.com

Banning from the forum

This is the most severe disciplinary action that can be taken against you on the site. The consequence of being banned is that you will not be able to make any further posts AND you will no longer have the privilege of having viewing access to the forum.

You will given a RED STRIKE and BANNED from the forum if you exhibit the following behaviour:

- Attacking or abusing a member of forum staff privately following any disciplinary action taken

I would like to make you aware that you are not condemned to permanent exclusion from the site if you have been banned. If you feel that you have worked through the emotion(s) as to why you were issued with a RED STRIKE and BANNED initially and would like to return to the forums in sincerity, you can submit an appeal to me for consideration via email at nicky@divinetruthhub.com

I will now explain the anonymity terms in further detail.

Anonymity

It is now a requirement for all site and forum members to register with either:

1. Your full name
2. Your first name
3. Your first name and initial

Nicknames are NOT permitted on the forum. In order to ensure that this is adhered to, all new forum registrations will be sent to me for approval before full posting access will be granted to your newly created account.

Category 2 - AMBER STRIKE

This strike is intended to serve as a warning to you about your conduct on the site and signify that there is something important for you to work on emotionally. You will be issued with this type of strike if you have been found to engage in the following behaviour:

- Any co-dependent, emotional bartering based exchange with other visitors with the purpose of getting your own addictions met
- Entering discussions and forcibly pressing your beliefs on others of what you believe love and truth would dictate
- Posting comments with feelings of demand or expectation attached to them
- Not taking personal responsibility for your own emotions and growth by repeatedly trying to involve others in your own processing work from a narcissistic rather than from a loving/sharing intention

If you receive three AMBER STRIKES, you will be muted.

AMBER STRIKES can be removed from your profile as per my discretion if it can be observed that the reason why the strike was initially given is now not as much of an issue for yourself going forward and you have in at least part, worked through the reasons why you obtained the strike in the first place.

For example, if you have been issued with an AMBER STRIKE for posting any comments that had a demand or expectation and you have since given up this demand and/or expectation, the one strike pertaining to this particular breach will be removed from your profile.

If you receive three AMBER STRIKES and feel that you have worked your way through an issue, you are welcome to email me at nicky@divinetruthhub.com and submit an appeal for consideration.

On Probation

If an appeal is successful, posting rights will be reinstated to your account along with a new rank “On Probation.” Being in this rank is NOT determined by any set time frame OR post count, but based on the feeling/nature/intention of new posts.

If a returning member engages in the same behaviour that they were initially struck off the forum for, posting rights will be instantly removed from their profile for a second time with NO OTHER WARNINGS/STRIKES BEING ISSUED.

If a returning member engages in a separate addiction/injury to the one they had been struck off for originally, then they will not be "penalised" by their probation status and normal forum rules will apply on that particular issue (unless of course they engage in behaviour deemed a red strike action to which their posting privileges again will be instantly removed).

The returning member will be privately notified when their status has been changed back to a Registered User dependant upon how their probationary period goes.

Keeping Track of Disciplinary Action

If you are issued with a RED or AMBER strike, a topic will be created in the Strikes forum category outlining the disciplinary action taken.

For example, if visitor A personally attacks visitor B on a post, this will be classed as a RED STRIKE offence. A topic will be created in the Strikes forum category outlining the disciplinary action that has been taken so that everyone can observe this with the underlying goal of demonstrating to the group the type of behaviour that is not acceptable here.

All forum members can keep track of the disciplinary action taken against them by viewing “The Strike List” sticky topic located in the Strikes forum category.

I would like to make it clear to you that it is absolutely normal and healthy if you feel that you have a different opinion and/or experience on any given topic compared with another or other persons. It is completely acceptable, encouraged and important to state the truth of how you feel on such topics as long as you remain in a loving state when doing so.

Posting Content not in Harmony with Divine Truth Teachings

The site and forum that I have created has been made with the intention of offering a platform for people to discuss the teachings of Jesus & Mary and Divine Truth itself in an honest and sincere manner.

If you are found to be posting information that is in objection to the Divine Truth teachings OR are expressing your own dissatisfaction and differing beliefs in comparison to what has been taught, you are in fact in breach of the terms of use and will receive a RED STRIKE and be muted as you are not registered to the site for the purposes of discussing Divine Truth in an honest and sincere manner.

You are completely in your own rights to have differing spiritual beliefs and are entitled to disagree with Divine Truth teachings. However, bearing in mind that this site has been created to discuss the teachings of Divine Truth solely and if you decide to register for the purpose of sharing your differing beliefs, you are in disharmony with the intentions of the site.

I therefore suggest that if you do have differing spiritual beliefs, you view the site and forum content as a guest which will allow you to make your own reflections and conclusions in private without being unloving to others.

Receiving Direct Feedback about Forum Activity

It is assumed that by registering to the forum and participating, you would welcome and be open to the possibility of receiving feedback from myself, other forum members and/or the teachers of Divine Truth (Jesus & Mary).

Feedback, if gifted, may come in the form of video, voice clip or on the forum itself as per our discretion of what we feel is most appropriate. Any video clip would be published on YouTube for the benefit of not just yourself but to other viewers with the intention of educating and demonstrating lessons in love.

If you are not comfortable with this, I would advise that you do not register to the forum.

I may also choose to publicise any private correspondence at my discretion if it helps in demonstrating a lesson in love for the benefit of other forum members.

Reporting Others

It is strongly encouraged that if any of you feel another visitor is breaching the terms set out in this agreement, that you come to me DIRECTLY by either emailing me your concerns at nicky@divinetruthhub.com or send me a private message on the forums with the name of the member as well as the thread where you feel the unloving behaviour was observed.

Clarification

If you have any questions on any of the above terms, feel free to email me at nicky@divinetruthhub.com and I will be glad to offer you with any assistance.

I thank you dearly for taking the time to read and understand these terms of use.

With Love
Nicky